Who qualifies?

For life and disability cover you must be a South African citizen under age 65 and earning an income. The funeral benefit is open to SA citizens and foreigners legally living in SA, even without an income, up to age 75, and you can add parents and grandparents up to age 79.

Paid-up benefit

For an additional monthly fee, add a paid-up option to your funeral cover so it carries on with no further payments when you pass away, when you turn 65, or both, depending on the option you choose.
